h. Self-Support Reserve - The self-support reserve is a factor in calculating a child support award only when one or both of the parents have income at or near the poverty level. The self-support reserve is 150% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person. It attempts to ensure that the obligor has sufficient income to maintain a basic subsistence level and the incentive to work so that child support can be paid. A child support award is adjusted to reflect the self-support reserve only if payment of the child support award would reduce the obligor's net income below the reserve and the custodial parent's (or the Parent of the Primary Residence's) net income minus the custodial parent's share of the child support award is greater than 150% of the poverty guideline. The latter condition is necessary to ensure that custodial parents can meet their basic needs so that they can care for the children. As of January 1, ~~2024~~ 2025, the self-support reserve is ~~[$434]~~ $451 per week (This amount is 150% of the poverty guideline for one person).

20. Extreme Parental Income Situations

Although these guidelines apply to all actions to establish and modify child support awards, extremely low or high parental income situations make the Appendix IX-F awards inappropriate due to the limitations of the economic data. The guidelines listed below apply to extreme parental income situations.

a. Obligors With Net Income Less Than the U.S. Poverty Guideline. If an obligor's net income, after deducting that person's share of the total support award, is less than 150% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person (net income of ~~[$434]~~ $451 per week as of January 1, ~~[2024]~~ 2025 or as published annually in the Federal Register), the court shall carefully review the obligor's income and living expenses to determine the maximum amount of child support that can reasonably be ordered without denying the obligor the means of self-support at a minimum subsistence level. If an obligee's income minus the obligee's share of the child support award is less than 150% of the poverty guideline, no self-support reserve adjustment shall be made regardless of the obligor's income. In all cases, a fixed dollar amount shall be ordered to establish the principle of the parent's support obligation and to provide a basis for an upward modification should the obligor's income increase in the future. In these circumstances, the support award should be between $5.00 per week and the support amount at $180 combined net weekly income for the appropriate number of children.

22. Stipulated Agreements.

In accordance with Rule 5:6A, if a child support amount in a stipulated or consent agreement differs from an award calculated using the support guidelines, the parties or their representatives shall state on a child support guidelines worksheet: (a) the amount of support that would have been awarded if calculated using the guidelines and (b) the reason that the stipulated amount differs from the guidelines-based award.

Note on Social Security Taxes: Social Security tax withholding (FICA) for high-income persons may vary during the year. In the early part of the year, 6.2% is withheld on the first [\[\$168,600\] \$176,100](#) of gross earnings (for wage earners in [\[2024\] 2025](#)). After the maximum [\[\$10,453\] \$10,918](#) is withheld, no additional FICA taxes are withheld. Thus, pay stubs issued early in the year may understate net income, while those issued later in the year may overstate it.

To estimate weekly FICA taxes, amortize the annual FICA tax using the number of weeks employed or use the Appendix IX-H combined tax tables. Note that self-employed persons must pay the full FICA tax (12.4%) up to the [\[\$168,600\]](#) \$176,100 limit on all earned income.

Lines 25, 26 and 27 - Maintaining a Self-Support Reserve

To ensure that the obligor parent retains sufficient net income to live at a minimum subsistence level and has the incentive to work, that parent's net child support award is tested against 150% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person. If the NCP's net income after deducting the child support award is less than the self-support reserve, the order should be adjusted. No such adjustment shall occur, however, if the custodial parent's net income minus the custodial parent's child support obligation is less than the self-support reserve. This priority is necessary to ensure that custodial parents can meet their basic needs while caring for the child(ren). The poverty guideline will be disseminated by the AOC each February or when it is published in the Federal Register. The self-support reserve test is applied as follows:

1. Subtract the obligor's child support obligation from that person's net income.
2. If the difference is greater than 150% of the poverty guideline for one person (~~[$434]~~ $451 per week as of January 1, ~~[2024]~~ 2025), the self-support reserve is preserved and the obligor's support obligation is the child support order.
3. If the difference is less than 150% of the poverty guideline for one person and the custodial parent's net income is greater than 150% of the poverty guideline, the obligor's child support order is the difference between the obligor's net income and the 150% of the poverty guideline for one person.

In determining whether the application of the self-support reserve is appropriate, the court may need to impute income to a parent as provided in Appendix IX-A. The court should also consider a parent's actual living expenses and the custodial parent's share of the support obligation (see Appendix IX-A, paragraph 20).

To ensure that the PAR retains sufficient net income to live at a minimum subsistence level and has the incentive to work, that parent's net child support award is tested against 150% of the U.S. poverty guideline for one person. If the PAR's net income after deducting the child support award is less than the self-support reserve, the order should be adjusted. No such adjustment shall occur, however, if the PPR's net income minus the PPR's child support obligation is less than the self-support reserve. This priority is necessary to ensure that a PPR can meet his or her basic needs while caring for the child(ren). The poverty guideline will be disseminated by the AOC each February or when it is published in the Federal Register. The self-support reserve test is applied as follows:

1. Subtract obligor's child support obligation from that person's net income.
4. If the difference is greater than 150% of the poverty guideline for one person (~~[$434]~~ $451 per week as of January 1, ~~[2024]~~ 2025), the self-support reserve is preserved and the obligor's support obligation is the child support order.
5. If the difference is less than 150% of the poverty guideline for one person and the PPR's net income is greater than 150% of the poverty guideline, the obligor's child support order is the difference between the obligor's net income and the 150% of the poverty guideline for one person.

In determining whether the application of the self-support reserve is appropriate, the court may need to impute income to a parent as provided in Appendix IX-A, take into account a parent's actual living expenses, and/or consider the PPR's support obligation to the children (see Appendix IX-A, paragraph 20).

NOTE: In some family situations (e.g., the PPR's income exceeds the PAR's income and shared parenting times are near equal), the PPR may owe child support to the PAR (in such cases, the PAR's obligation is a negative number). If this occurs, the self-support reserve should be tested using the PPR's net income and the absolute value of the PAR's negative obligation. In all cases, the PPR should be given the priority with regard to the self-support reserve.

COMMENTS ON THE USE OF THE COMBINED TAX TABLES

Appendix IX-H

Limitations of this Table – This table should not be used if either parent: (1) has income from non-wage income that is not subject to the same taxes as wages (such as alimony or Social Security disability – see Appendix IX-B), (2) claims mandatory retirement contributions, or (3) has a married marital status for tax withholding purposes.

Withholding Taxes vs. Year-End Tax Obligations – This table is based on federal and New Jersey withholding rates and the federal Child Tax Credit. It is meant to provide an estimate of how much after-tax income an individual has available to pay child support at the end of each week. Year-end tax obligations, adjustments, credits, and tax refunds (e.g., earned income credit, filing as head of household, personal deductions for children) are not considered in this table and may result in taxes that differ from the amount withheld by an employer. When applying the Support Guidelines, withholding taxes and/or net income should be adjusted based on year-end tax obligations after reviewing tax returns if such an adjustment would more accurately reflect net income available to either parent in future years.

Eligible Dependents – For eligibility regarding the number of dependents qualifying for the federal Child Tax Credit, see Appendix IX-B, Line 2a and IRS Form W-4 [\[2024\]](#) 2025.

Self-Employed Persons – This table gives the withholding tax for employees who are paid wages for their services. It assumes that the employer is paying a portion of the Social Security and Medicare taxes for the employee (7.65%). To estimate the combined tax for self-employed persons earning no more than [\[\$3,242\]](#) \$3,387 per week ([\[\$168,600\]](#) \$176,100 per year), multiply gross taxable weekly income by 0.0765 and add the result to the table amount. For persons earning above [\[\$3,242\]](#) \$3,387 per week, multiply gross taxable weekly income by .0145 (Medicare), add [\[\$201\]](#) \$210 (Social Security max of 6.2%), and add the sum to the table amount. IMPORTANT: Although this formula will provide an estimate of self-employment income taxes, a careful review of the most recent personal and business tax returns will provide a more accurate tax figure for self-employed persons. Also, see IRS Pub 505 and Schedule SE and App. IX-B (Determining Income).

Non-Taxable Income – Some forms of income (e.g., Social Security, VA, Worker's Comp) are not subject to state or federal income tax. Such income is added to taxable income after combined withholding taxes are deducted. Do not combine non-taxable income with gross taxable income when using these tables. (See Appendix IX-B – Determining Income).

Alimony Income – Alimony ordered after December 31, 2018, received or paid, is neither taxable nor deductible for federal income tax purposes. Alimony ordered prior to January 1, 2019, received may be subject to federal and state income tax, but not Social Security or Medicare tax. If the combined tax tables are used for gross income that includes taxable alimony, deduct the Social Security/Medicare tax for the amount of the alimony (0.0765) from the combined withholding tax.

Social Security Tax (FICA) – This table gives the correct amount of combined withholding tax only if wages for income tax and Social Security are the same. The Social Security tax withholding rate for wage earners is 0.062. The maximum amount of Social Security tax for one year [~~$10,453~~] ~~$10,918~~/year or [~~$201~~] ~~$210~~/week is averaged into the table for income ranges above [~~$168,600~~] ~~$176,100~~. Refer to IRS Publications 15 and 15-T for more information. Note that some forms of income are not subject to Social Security and Medicare tax (interest income, rents, dealing in property). These forms of income should be excluded from gross income when estimating a parent's taxes. Also, self-employed persons must pay the full Social Security/Medicare tax on 92.35% of their gross income. (See IRS Form Schedule SE.)

Medicare Tax – This table accounts for Medicare tax and "Additional Medicare Tax." The Medicare tax withholding rate for wage earners is 0.0145 for all incomes. In addition to the 1.45% Medicare tax, there is an Additional Medicare Tax of 0.9% applied to wages in excess of $200,000. The 0.9% Additional Medicare Tax also applies to self-employed persons (there is no employer share of Additional Medicare Tax).

Federal Income Tax – This table includes federal income tax withholding rates as published by the IRS (see Publications 15 and 15-T (Circular E) for use in ~~[2024]~~ ~~2025~~). To determine the amount of federal income tax for incomes greater than those shown in this table, refer to the same IRS Publications.

New Jersey Income Tax – This table includes tax withholding rates published by the NJ Division of Taxation (see NJ-WT, effective January 1, ~~[2024]~~ ~~2025~~). To determine New Jersey withholding tax for incomes greater than those shown in this table, refer to this same NJ-WT publication.

Note: Appendix IX-H amended April 8, 2025 to be effective ~~[June 1, 2024]~~ ~~June 1, 2025~~.
